The conventional office is rapidly vanishing under a series of challenges from new working practices, mobile communications and a demand for total flexibility.

A more domestic, more human aesthetic is fast becoming the required backdrop for the newly blurred distinctions between work, home and entertainment spaces. Our adventures in designing hotels, restaurants, clubs and homes have shown us that there is a need for versatile, hardwearing and functional objects for work, that are attractive enough to be used in domestic and decorative situations.

BOOM

This functional, practical and beautifully engineered task light takes its inspiration from generations of draughtsman's and machinists lamps, reduced to a series of cylinders, tubes and junctions arranged in a minimalist sculptural composition. It's the ultimate understated lighting option for a multitude of interiors.

SLAB DESK

The office world is awash with functional clinical and efficient systems. Slab is an alternative for the future office that is looking for more natural alternatives. With softly rounded edges, solid materiality and bold cable management slots, it's the solid and honest desking system for the rapidly emerging co-working space.

HOME OFFICE DRESSING TABLE HOTEL ROOMS

SLAB SCHOOL DESK

Inspired by the archetypal Victorian school desk, this contemporary work station is equally comfortable as a hotel room desk or a dressing table. Made from solid Oak, with rounded edges and understated proportions, the traditional inkwell transformed into a cable hole, and a deeply machined groove for accessories – this desk is a domesticated all situation work station for laptops, makeup, sketching or fiddling around on Instagram.

CUBE ALLOY

These solid cast zinc alloy desk accessories have a reassuringly solid, minimal and indestructible presence that give a sense of authority and permanence to any work situation, and will live on way beyond the lifetime of your latest electronic fripperies and gadgets.
